

The school of the children in the world

“To give to children the chance to exchange opinions, tales and images with other children living far away in very different countries, will represent a terrific experience that will help them to grow up without prejudices and build up a better world”

The school of the children in the world

“Thanks to the today’s technology of the Internet web supported by a suitable software and hardware, we are able to communicate and to send and receive information from all over the world”

Project by Daniele Pons, Italy

TABLE 2

The school of the children in the world

“The school of the Children in the World using the web resources will form only one big classroom attended by teachers and children coming from ten primary schools of ten countries in the world”

Project by Daniele Pons, Italy

TABLE 3

The school of the children in the world

“The informatic system will be structured as follows: one multimedia computer, one or more peripherals for pictures / documents / video acquisition, one print peripheral and Internet access.

To all schools a kit will be delivered, that will include many Internet and Intranet, word processing, drawing and multimedia project development software packages”

The school of the children in the world

*“We will solve the problem of the exchange of information in different languages with the support of one or more Italian Universities or of other specialist centres.
The task will be to translate all written and spoken messages of the different children and teachers of The school of the Children in the World”*

Project by Daniele Pons, Italy

TABLE 5

The school of the children in the world

*“The system intranet will as well:
create and run different P.O.Boxes at different levels, run a common timetable and send documents, HTML pages, programmes, images and audio and video segments.
The teachers and the children of The school of the Children in the World will meet in this ‘park’ and will simply have to collect and give information”*

Internet

The school of the children in the world

“The more interesting activities of The school of the Children in the World will be on the site internet in different languages so as to promote the project worldwide, maybe achieving an experience-sharing with a larger number of schools, and collect opinions, criticisms and advice useful to the development of new ideas”

